

Constant mean curvature surfaces in Riemannian manifolds

Frank Pacard

École Polytechnique, France

I will give an overview of some recent constructions of constant mean curvature surfaces in Riemannian manifolds. I will also review some properties of constant mean curvature surfaces with large mean curvature which, together with the known examples, shed light on the structure of the space of such geometric objects.