Title: Algorithmic Applications of M-Ellipsoids
Speaker: Santosh Vempala

Abstract: Milman's ellipsoids play an important role in modern convex geometry. Here we show that their proofs of existence can be turned into efficient algorithms, and these in turn lead to improved (deterministic) algorithms for volume estimation of convex bodies, finding the shortest lattice vector under general norms and integer programming.